

Rawat Premium Garlic Peeling Machine – Heavy-Duty Automatic Garlic Skin Remover

About Product

The Rawat Garlic Peeling Machine is an advanced, high-efficiency food processing solution engineered to automate one of the most labor-intensive tasks in commercial kitchens. Utilizing innovative pneumatic air-peeling technology, this industrial-grade machine effortlessly strips the skins from garlic cloves in seconds without relying on sharp mechanical blades. It is the absolute ultimate choice for commercial garlic paste manufacturers, bulk pickle factories, dehydrated vegetable units, large catering companies, and busy restaurant kitchens looking to maximize processing speeds, minimize food damage, and drastically cut down daily labor expenses.

Core Highlights

- Made In India
 - High-velocity automatic peeling performance dramatically accelerates bulk food preparation lines
 - Uses advanced air-peeling technology to smoothly separate skins without causing bruising or damage to the garlic cloves
 - High peeling rate ensures exceptionally clean clove output ready for immediate processing or packaging
 - Premium food-grade structural construction provides complete rust resistance and ultimate processing hygiene
 - Streamlined mechanical design operates continuously with a very low clove breakage and wastage rate
 - Easy-to-access configuration allows for remarkably fast daily cleaning and hassle-free mechanical maintenance
